THE HAMMERS ARE BOSSES.

Swears Majority of the Republican National Committee Ought to Wear Stripes.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 12.—With an attack on his opponents in the republican national committee and on President Taft, Colonel Roosevelt last night again protested against the course of affairs at Chicago. In a statement issued at Sagamore Hill he said Mr. Taft assumed "that the presidency is to be treated as a gift within the bestowal of the politicians in defiance of the duly expressed wish of the people." "Such conduct," said Colonel Roosevelt wrote, "comes dangerously near being treason to the whole spirit of our institutions, to the whole spirit of democratic free-government."

The former President laid especial stress upon the action of the committee in seating the Taft delegates from the thirteenth district of Indiana, notwithstanding the fact, he said, that the Roosevelt men were clearly in the majority in the convention which was called to elect these two delegates.

DOWN IN THE FIRST

Four Candidates For Congress Must File Petitions In 10 Days or Quit.

With only six weeks or so more before the successor to Senator-elect Ollie M. James is elected to congress, the congressional race is well under way with four candidates for the office as busy as bees. Judge Alben W. Barkley, Judge John K. Hendrick, C. I. Jake Corbett and Commonwealth Attorney Denny P. Smith are the entries.

Under the new primary law the candidates for congress must file with the secretary of state petitions signed by two per cent. of the voters in most of the counties in the district. This means that two per cent. of the voters in each of six counties must sign the candidates' petition before the candidates' names can go on the ballot.

The time for filing the petitions is set at before forty days prior to the election, which is about June 23.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Army Officer And Aviator Fall To Their Deaths.

College Park, M. D., June 12.—Lieut. Leighton W. Hazlehurst, Seventeenth Infantry, U. S. A., of Macon, Ga., and A. L. Welch, of Washington, D. C., were killed here yesterday evening, when a new army aeroplane of the Wright type in which they were flying, fell to the ground at the army aviation school, and was wrecked. Lieut. Hazlehurst and Welch had just started on their trip and had reached an elevation of about two hundred feet when the machine suddenly crashed to the ground. Death to both was instantaneous.

AGED CITIZEN.

Uraemic Poisoning Causes Death of Mr. Cobb.

Mr E. H. Cobb, an aged citizen of the Edwards Mill neighborhood, died at his home Tuesday night from uraemic poisoning. He was a well known farmer and was in his 87th year. Mr. Cobb was a widower and is survived by several children, one of whom, W. H. H. Cobb, resides in this city. The interment took place in the family burying ground yesterday afternoon.

Prof. C. C. Thach's Son.

Montgomery, Ala., June 12.—Complying with a requirement of the war department, Col. B. S. Patrick, commanding the cadet corps of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn, has sent to Adjutant-General J. B. Scully the names of three cadets who have made the highest military record this year. The names are: Capt. S. R. Cruse, Huntsville; Maj. C. C. Thach, Jr., Auburn; Lieut. F. L. Jenkins, Upatole, Ga. The war department keeps these names on file, and in case of war the cadets are liable to be called upon to officer troops in the country's service. Maj. Thach, it is presumed, is a son of Hon. C. C. Thach, who was at one time a teacher in Maj. Ferrell's High School in this city.

TOM SLAUGHTER

Colored Murderer From Christian Gets New Trial.

Tom Slaughter, col. the murderer of Lee Jenkins at Elgoten last winter, given a death sentence at the March term of circuit court, was granted a reversal by the court of appeals Tuesday and will not be electrocuted on his former conviction. There will be a new trial of the case. Slaughter's crime was an unprovoked murder and it is hardly possible that he will escape another conviction.

POOR PROSPECT

For Wheat Crop In Christian
This Year.

Wheat has not come out as it does sometime after a severe freezing
during the winter and the indications are that the crop in Christian county will be a short one, even with the most favorable weather conditions prevailing the remainder of the season. The May crop report of Commissioner of Agriculture Newman as to the condition of the crop over the state shows about 75 per cent, a decrease of four per cent since May 1. With an acreage of only about 83 per cent, and a condition of 75 per cent, there is not a great prospect for a good wheat crop in the state this year.

Drives off a Terror.

The chief executioner of death in the winter and spring months is pneumonia. Its advance agents are colds and grip. In any attack by one of these maladies no time should be lost in taking the best medicine obtainable to drive it off. Countless thousands have found this to be Dr.
King's New Discovery. "My husband believes it has kept him from having pneumonia three or four times," writes Mrs. George W.
Place, Rawsonville, Vt., "and for coughs, colds and croup we have never found its equal." Guaranteed for all bronchial affections.

TRYING NEW PLAN

Turpentine Wash Proves Fatal
To Screw Worms.

Clarksville, Tenn., June 9.—In view of the inroads made by what is called the screw worm, many of the farmers of Montgomery county have been making experiments as to what method could be used to destroy the pest. Prof. P. L. Harned, knowing that turpentine was destructive to all insect life, conceived the idea that this worm could be destroyed by its use. Therefore he prepared a basin of three gallons of water, into which he put one-half pint of turpentine. When he pulled the plants, after washing the roots well he dipped them into the turpentine water and set them out, and so far there has been no effect of the worm found, while other tobacco set without this was suffered very much.

Could Shout for Joy.

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B.
Rader, of Lewisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made just for me."
For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaun-

Could Not Write

Versailles, Ky.—Mrs. Edna Green of this place, says: "I could not write all the different pains I had,
when I first tried Cardui. I could scarcely walk. Now I am able to run the sewing machine and do my work; and my neighbors tell me the medicine must be good, for I look so much better." Cardui is a specific, pain relieving, tonic remedy, for women. In the past 50 years, it has been found to relieve women's unnecessary pains, and female misery,
for which over a million suffering
women have successfully used it.
Try Cardui for your troubles. It will help you. At the nearest drug

COLUMBUS

Memorial Unveiled At Washington With Great Ceremonies.

Washington, June 10.—In the presence of thousands of Knights of Columbus, assembled from all parts of the United States, Mexico and Canada, a handsome $100,000 memorial to Christopher Columbus, discoverer of America, was unveiled here Saturday with ceremonies in which President Taft, members of his cabinet, congressmen, senators and other noted men participated.
Secretary of State Knox presided at the unveiling and the president and cabinet members made addresses.
A picturesque street parade and pageant in which the army and navy representatives and thousands of Knights of Columbus passed in review before the president, speeches
by distinguished orators, fireworks and a $10-a-plate banquet were included in the program of the day's festivities.

Strawberries In Warren.

Bowling Green, Ky., June 10.—The strawberry crop of Warren county has been harvested and during the season two hundred cars have been shipped from twelve hundred acres of berries, bringing the farmers of Warren county about $200,000. The growing of strawberries was started in this county five years ago by A. G.
Meador, president of the Warren County Strawberry Growers' Association, George A. Collett, the late Ed Stone and others, forty acres being devoted to them. Last year three hundred acres were put in berries which filled sixty cars, bringing $2.25 per crate and this year the largest price received was $1.75, which is fifty cents less than last season, but as there were many more berries raised this year, it will bring more money to the growers. On one Monday night there were twenty-nine cars of berries shipped to northern points.

Weather For The Week.

Following is the weather forecast for the present week, according to the bulletin issued at Washington:
The indications are that the week
will be one of moderate temperature over the greater part of the country,
a reaction to normal temperature
following several days of unseasonably cool weather over the Middle West and the Southern and Eastern States being probable during the first half of the week. Fair weather will prevail the next several days in the Eastern and Southern States, while an area of low barometric pressure that now covers the Western plateau region will advance slowly eastward and give local rains
the first part of the week in the Middle West and the latter part of the week in the Eastern and Southern States.

Prices Fifteen Years Ago.

The following prices prevailed on the Milton market fifteen years ago:
Eggs 8 cents; butter, choice, 7 cents;
common 4 cents; hens, 6 cents;
roosters, 3 cents; turkeys, over fifteen pounds, 8 cents; geese, 5 cents;
ducks, 6 cents; goose eggs, 20 cents,
and duck eggs, 10 cents. Some difference in the prices now.—Milton

THEIR OWN PROPERTY

WORKING PARTNERS HAD A RIGHT TO INFORMATION.

Fall River Cotton Magnates Have No Right to Feeling of "Consternation" That Business "Secrets" Have Become Known.

"Consternation" and "shocked beyond measure" are among the expressions descriptive of the feelings of some of the Fall River cotton mill magnates.

When the tariff board sought information on which to base the schedules for a proposed revision of the cotton rates, these Massachusetts factory owners opened their books and furnished data. They did not suppose it possible the facts concerning their business ever would be given to the public.

They assert they had no suspicion that their "innermost business secrets" would be tabulated and given to the world. Hence, when tabulation and publicity confront them, "consternation" prevails and they are "shocked beyond measure."

These Fall River gentlemen should take counsel of the teachings of the first principles of philosophy.

What, according to the familiar arguments of the protectionists, is the foundation of the tariff idea? Why, the benefit of the workingmen, of course.

The outcome of that idea is that the employers and the employed are in a partnership, the principal argument for which is the bettering of the condition of the employed.

What, then, could be more logical or more proper than that the partners who do the work should be informed concerning the details of the business?

If, as result of the tariff board's investigations, the working partners have secured such information, they have obtained what was theirs by right. And there should be no occasion for "consternation" on the part of the managing members of the partnership.

Can't "Embarrass" Roosevelt.

In one of his speeches Roosevelt, in answer to a question, "Where's Perkins?" replied: "He's for me. You can't put a question to me that will embarrass me for a moment." No one will dispute the truth of that statement. There are some men—and Roosevelt is one of them, by his own admission—who can not be "embarrassed" by anything. So we are not surprised that, even after Mr. Taft had told the whole truth about Lorimer, and proved that he was, as he always had been, against him, and showed that he had even consulted the third term as to the most effective way to deal with the case in the senate, Roosevelt should say: "Mr.
Taft came here to explain that he did not like Mr. Lorimer, having kept his dislike private and confidential until after he lost Illinois." A man who could say such a thing as that, in the face of proof to the contrary, is beyond the possibility of being "embarrassed." And this is the man who refused information as to the harvester trust to the senate committee, who stopped the suit against the harvester trust, and who carted away to the White House the papers in the Steel trust case lest congress should get hold of them. He is like "the African monarch, the splendid, unabashed, unashamed," and, we hope, "unattended." It is true that you can not put a question to him that will "embarrass" him. It is also true that you can not put one to him—unless you corner him as the man in his audience did—that he will answer.

The Third Term.

Inordinate ambition, a lust for power, a vanity so excessive that it touches the very verge of madness, an utter contempt for the people—for
Mr. Roosevelt has always entertained a profound contempt for the people,
although, with the craft of the dema-agogue, he has over posed as their friend and champion—and a defiance of the wisdom of the fathers of the republic and the teachings of history have combined to make Mr. Roosevelt hunger to occupy the White House for the third time. He is ambitious to be Caesar and to implant
Caesarism upon the United States.
To reach the cerule chair he has had to use the dagger of treachery and to trample upon his solemn promises.
For these he cares nothing. He stabs his friend with as little remorse as he shows shame when he is reminded of his repudiated pledge. Utterly without shame, utterly unscrupulous, utterly without conscience or sense of honor, he is willing to do anything, to lend himself to any base plot, to resort to any falsity to become Caesar.
For him the republic exists only as he can make it his personal property.—
A. Maurice Low, in Harper's Weekly

Not Mr. Perkins' Method.

Those who read Mr. Perkins' statement of his contributions to campaign purposes understandingly are not likely to think he was trying to give a realistic imitation of Mr. E. Z. Mark.
Mr. Perkins did not acquire his millions on his position as a Morgan partner and director in the greatest trusts ever organized in the world, through paying out money without certainty of getting value for it. He has never been, to put it mildly, known as a philanthropist.

CHAUTAUQUA FACTS
BOILED DOWN. The
first Chautauqua in the world was founded in 1873.

There are some 600 Chautauquas in America today.

Nearly 300 of the 600 Chautauquas are directly under Redpath management—the same bureau which is furnishing our Chautauqua.

There are fifty more Chautauquas in the United States today than there were a year ago, our forthcoming Chautauqua being one of the fifty.

The size of the tent to be erected here is 90 x 130 feet.

Three thousand people can be accommodated at all performances.

The tent crews will be composed of college men.

Aid for the Invalid.

A stick of the right sort will help an invalid in many ways. It should be strong, yet light, with a stout iron hook on one end and a knob on the other. This will enable an invalid to adjust curtains, raise and lower shades and windows, push her rolling chair or move a screen, and aid herself in a variety of other ways.

Decrease in Business Failures.

According to the mercantile agencies' reports, there were 197 business failures in the United States for the week ending June 6, as compared with 231 for the preceding week;
232 for a like week of last year, and 180 for the similar week in 1910.

EX-GOVERNOR E. W. HOCH.

HON. E. W. HOCH, one of the speakers at the Chautauqua this season, was twice elected governor of Kansas and is today one of the most popular men in the state. While governor he accomplished many notable things. Among the things which he championed and which crystallized into law during his administration were an anti-pass law, a drastic pure food law, a state wide primary election law, two cent railroad fare, a depository law for state funds, yielding nearly $2,000 per month to the state, an entire change of management in state institutions, putting them on a civil service business basis and resulting in wonderful increase in their efficiency. Oil legislation was enacted which made possible in three years the establishment of nineteen successful independent oil refineries and an annual saving of $1,000,000 to the consumers of coal oil alone in Kansas.

COMING CHAUTAUQUA WEEK.

FOR versatility the Musical Favorites, scheduled to appear at our Chautauqua, have few equals. The instruments which they use are the saxophone, three banjos, three mandolins, xylophone, violin, piano and cello. Mr. Arthur Love, in addition to his work as a musician, varies the program with poems and readings. He is a writer, poet, composer, soloist, reader and humorist. He has been referred to as a "distinguished caterer of happiness" and again as an "unrivaled dispeller of the blues."

Church 100 Years Old.

There is in McLean county a country church which is 100 years old—Buck Creek Baptist church, near Nuckols, on the Owensboro division of the Louisville and Nashville railroad. This church was organized 100 years ago, June 12, 1812. Like all pioneer churches, it had a small beginning, but many years ago grew into one of the most flourishing country churches in the Green river section.

Revenue Agent Appointed.

Frankfort, Ky., June 7.—Sta e Auditor Bosworth today appointed J. W. Blackburn, Jr., at Frankfort, State Revenue Agent for Franklin county. Mr. Blackburn is a nephew of former Senator Blackburn.

Bound to Get Even.

A 14-year-old French boy, angered the other morning at being awakened too early by his mother, revenged himself by breaking up the furniture in his room, afterwards mounting to the roof of the house and throwing tiles at the people below.

STRANGE BIRDS FOUND

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION GETS NORTHWEST COLLECTION.

Work New North American Territory—Ethnologists Also Follow Spaniards' Footsteps and Discover Ancient Marks in New Mexico.

The Smithsonian party which accompanied Dr. O. A. Wheeler, president of the Alpine club of Canada, on his topographic survey of the British Columbia and Alberta boundary line and the Mount Robson region, recently returned to Washington.

N. Hollister, naturalist in charge of the party, is elated over the success of the expedition, and states that the new collection is quite complete and covers practically all the birds and animals inhabiting this previously unworked territory. The party was a small one, consisting of four members, including Mr. Hollister, assistant curator of mammals, and J. H. Riley of the division of birds in the national museum.

Assembling at Edmonton, Alberta, the party proceeded on the Grand Trunk railroad to the end of the line, where they found it necessary to take pack horses to penetrate the Mount Robson region. The land to be surveyed included the territory lying about this mountain in the heart of the Canadian Rockies, comprising the most rugged and broken country imaginable. Amidst this wonderful scenery Mount Robson rises in titanic outline, the highest peak in the Rockies, probably between 14,500 and 15,000 feet high, and surrounding it for a distance of 50 miles in all directions lies the field of the survey.

In this wild and unclaimed country the party of naturalists remained nearly four months, protected by special permits from the Canadian government. The natural history work was divided, Mr. Hollister and Mr. Riley collecting the birds and small animals, while the other collectors hunted big game. The collection includes some 900 specimens of birds and mammals, the latter ranging in size from tiny mole-like creatures, called "shrews," to fullgrown caribous and bears.

One enormous grizzly bear was obtained by a fortunate shot. Much fine material for exhibition groups was secured, including a series of caribou, mountain goats, mountain sheep, beavers and many varieties of smaller animals. Besides birds and mammals, large numbers of plants and insects were collected. All the specimens have been turned over to the national museum and when the collection is worked up parts of it will be put on exhibition.

F. W. Hodge, ethnologist in charge of the bureau of American ethnology of the Smithsonian institution, has returned to Washington from an expedition to New Mexico, conducted under the joint auspices of the bureau and the School of American Archaeology at Santa Fe. Early in September Mr. Hodge proceeded to El Morro, or Inscription Rock, in western New Mexico, where, with the assistance of Jesse L. Nusbaum of the School of American Archaeology, paper impressions and photographs of the inscriptions on the rock were made.

El Morro is an enormous sandstone rock rising a couple of hundred feet out of the plain, and eroded in such fantastic forms as to give it the appearance of a great castle, hence its Spanish name. A small spring formerly existing at the rock made it a convenient place for the Spanish explorers of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, and the smooth face of the "castle" well adapted it to receive the inscriptions of the conquerors of that early period.

The earliest inscription, and historically the most important, is that of Juan de Onate, colonizer of New Mexico and the founder of the city of Santa Fe in 1606. It was in this year that Onate visited El Morro and carved this inscription on his return from a trip to the head of the Gulf of California.

There are 19 other Spanish inscriptions of almost equal importance, among them that of Don Diego de Vargas, who, in 1692, reconquered the Pueblo Indians after their rebellion against Spanish authority in 1680. The paper impressions, or "squeeze," have been transferred to the national museum, where plaster casts shortly will be made of them for permanent preservation.

Although El Morro has been made a national monument by proclamation of the president, there is no local custodian, consequently the rock is exposed to vandalism, and the inscriptions, so important to the early history of the southwest, are ever threatened with destruction by the thoughtless visitors, who scratch their own insignificant names in dangerous proximity to these old records of early exploration.

Mr. Hodge later joined Dr. Edgar L. Hewett, director of the School of American Archaeology, on an expedition to the Jemez valley, about sixty-five miles northwest of Albuquerque, where excavations were conducted in the ruins of a large stone pueblo known as Amaxilumqua, which measures about 1,100 by 600 feet and is situated on a mesa rising 1,800 feet above Jemez river.

This pueblo was occupied from prehistoric times to the year 1622, when, according to early Spanish records, it was abandoned on account of the depredations of the Navajo Indians.

CONTROLLED BY STEEL

REPUBLICAN PARTY IS IN AN ANOMALOUS POSITION.

When It Prosecutes the Harvester Trust, Which is Closely Affiliated With the Giant Corporation, It in Effect Prosecutes Itself.

When a Republican administration prosecutes the Harvester trust it in effect prosecutes the Republican party, for the Harvester trust is closely affiliated with the Steel trust and the Steel trust is the mainspring of the party.

Iron and steel gained control of the Republican party in the days of Abraham Lincoln and their grip on the organization has been growing tighter ever since. Nelson W. Aldrich once said that wool was the keystone of the tariff arch, but that is true only to the extent that wool is supposed to keep in line for protection various agricultural states which naturally are opposed to the system. There never would have been any bribe of this kind in the case of the farmers if iron and steel had not used it to safeguard their own position.

The Steel trust is not only the greatest beneficiary of the Republican tariff, but it is the most impressive example of the Republican policy of pampering combinations in restraint of trade. It is a good deal more than the greatest of trusts. Its creators and owners control to a great extent the railroads and the banking institutions of the country. The Harvester trust is one of its satellites. It was organized by George W. Perkins, late of J. P. Morgan & Co., who is still one of its directors. Up to this time it has been, like the Steel trust, one of the good trusts, because its Republicanism was never questioned.

We can hardly believe that this proceeding will have important results aside from the publicity that possibly may ensue. The terrorism of the Steel trust extends through every ramification of Republicanism from coast to coast. It is the Steel trust that has made Republican presidents, controlled Republican congresses and fattened Republican corruption funds. Every loyal Republican in the Union is as reluctant to lay violent hands upon the Steel trust as he would be to commit a personal assault upon the national Republican committee.

As there would have been no prosecution of the Harvester monopoly if Messrs. Taft and Roosevelt had not quarreled, we may be sure that if the Republican party remains in power not much will be heard of the case after the differences of these two men shall have been settled in one way or another. The true way to punish the steel combination and its progeny is to punish its political representatives, the Republican party. This can be accomplished only by a Democratic president and congress intent upon removing the extortion from our tariff laws.

The most powerful of Republican presidents have not ventured to attack the Steel trust and its subsidiaries. We therefore cannot regard very seriously a movement against them by the weakest of Republican presidents.

Senate Has Done Nothing This Season

The senate has done practically nothing this session. The senate Republicans have drifted along. There is neither party organization nor party spirit among them. A group has been busy playing politics. They have done something to help the president in his struggle for delegates. Nearly all the Republicans have been thus engaged in their respective states. They have given virtually no attention to legislation, outside of local measures.

On the other hand the Democrats are diligently and aggressively working out their program. Before the session adjourns it promises to be definite and comprehensive. They have been less diverted by the presidential campaigning. While there is divergence of view within the Democratic party, there has been general co-operation, whenever the call was made for a forward movement. And this co-operation has been all the more effective because it has swept along insurgent support in the house and, when the period comes for voting upon important measures, will probably command such support in the senate.

Chance for Taft's Economy.

The agreement between the house and senate conferences on the general service pension bill will add about $25,000,000 a year to the government's expenditures for pensions. If the bill passes Mr. Taft will never have a better opportunity to prove his sincerity in the policy of economy. A ringing veto would be the best means of putting to shame the politicians of both parties who seek to use the federal treasury for campaign purposes. It would also show that Mr. Taft is not "feeble" and "a man of straw."

I am greatly pleased with the platform of the Pennsylvania Republican party—Colonel Roosevelt at Baltimore.

Including, of course, the tariff plank, which is standpointism and guarantees special interests among the Pennsylvania manufacturers "a reasonable profit."

The people did not elect Mr. Taft president. Theodore did it. At least he says he did. And who dares deny the truth of what Theodore says?

TAKING IT TO THE PEOPLE

A GREAT deal is being said nowadays thruout this country about taking public problems direct to the people. This is what President Taft and Col. Roosevelt have been doing lately, and what all those interested in great public questions must do more and more as the years go by.

In the forthcoming Chautauqua here many important problems will be discussed. It is impossible for all the people in the United States to attend any one Chautauqua. The Chautauqua must be taken to the people eventually in nearly every county of the land where the population warrants it. The Redpath Bureau under whose direction the Chautauqua in this county is being given this year, is the greatest factor in the world today in this work of carrying a Chautauqua Program to the people. More than 250 Chautauquas are operated under Redpath management and the number is rapidly increasing.

Send word to all your friends to come to our forthcoming Chautauqua. Especially if they have never before attended a Chautauqua program, it will be a revelation to them.

Current Comment.

The Republican-convention begins at Chicago next Tuesday June 18 and the Democratic convention at Baltimore one week later, June 25.

Seventy-five editors registered at Olympic Springs for the midsummer meeting of the Kentucky Press Association, which began Tuesday morning.

Upon completion of the examination of the books of the Kentucky State Board of Health, it is announced that accounts check up to a cent, but the inspector raises a point of law in considering some of the expenditures.

A mob of striking waiters tried to break up the official banquet to the visiting German naval officers at the Waldorf-Astoria Monday night. The police gave battle, and after riotous scenes, carried off several patrol wagons full of prisoners.

With five Justices concurring and four dissenting, the United States Supreme Court handed down a decision in which it is held that conspiracy to violate the Federal laws is punishable in any State where an overt act is done to further that conspiracy.

The Owensboro Inquirer figures out that Wilson has 332 votes in 22 States, Clark has 322, Harmon 54, Underwood 93, Marshall 30, Foss 36, Burke 10 and there are 161 un-instructed. The 90 votes of New York un-instructed are claimed as favorable to Wilson.

Declines to Go to Boston.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, former chief of the United States Bureau of Chemistry, has declined the city of Boston's offer to become chairman of its Board of Health.

Child Bride.

J. W. Wright, a carpenter, was united in marriage with Miss Ethel May Allen Friday. Mr. Wright is 35 years old while his wife is but fourteen. The girl's father, J. M. Allen, gave his consent to the marriage. Both live here.—Madisonville Hustler

Johnson-Wolfe.

Charles R. Johnson, of Nashville, Tenn., and Miss Elizabeth Elenor Wolfe, daughter of Mr. A. M. Wolfe, of this city, were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. A. R. Kasey officiated. The young people left shortly after the marriage for their future home in Nashville.

Purely Personal

Dr. Geo. N. Campbell, of Philadelphia, is here on a visit.

Mr. Jas. E. Chappell, of Birmingham, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Ida Chappell.

W. T. Radford left Tuesday for West Point Military Academy to matriculate as a cadet on the 14th.

Mrs. Geo. C. Howell and little son, of Richmond, Va., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McPherson for summer.

Mr. C. O. Wright has as guests this week, his son, Mr. Floyd Wright, and his brother, Mr. T. J. Wright, and family, all of Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Miss Ada Duncan has gone to Lexington to attend a Christian Endeavor state board meeting. From there she will go to Georgia and Florida to visit friends and relatives.

Mrs. D. A. Campbell is visiting in Bowling Green.

Mrs. M. B. Morrow, of Dallas, Texas, is visiting relatives here.

Humiliated Indian Tribe.

When the Quakers came to Pennsylvania in 1682 the only Indians in the neighborhood were the Delawares, who had just been terribly beaten by the Five Nations and forced into a treaty by which they submitted to be called women.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

WRONG MAN.

"I should have called before, I am afraid," murmured the little man as he entered the doctor's consulting room. "But these things are put off, you know."

Here he was seized with a very violent fit of coughing.

"A nasty cough," agreed the doctor. "Now just stand over here."

"But I just came—" said the stranger, but the doctor cut him short.

"Say no more," he answered. "I understand. Now take a deep breath and say 'ninety-nine.'"

"It's all right, doctor," said the visitor. "I know I've got a bad cough, but I've come round to say 99 cents. That's the amount you owe the electric light company. I'm a collector!"

Why Bother About the Rest?

"Does your husband carry any life insurance?"

"I don't know."

"I should think you would want to be informed about a matter that would be so serious to you."

"How could it be serious to me?"

"Why, if he died you would wish to know whether he had left you anything or not, wouldn't you?"

"Oh, if he died he would leave me a widow, and I should know that right away."

COULD NEVER FIND THEM.

Mrs. Wise—What kind of shirt-waists do you like best?
Mr. Wise—The kind you can't wear my ties with.

A Caution.

Walk very softly, brother,
And don't disturb your neighbor.
He may indulge, bethink you,
In literary labor.

Full Fare.

Caroline—How do you like George, Susan?
Susan (not out yet)—Not at all; he has the manners of a street car conductor.
Caroline—Why, what do you mean?
Susan—He is always saying: "Let's see, little girl, how old are you?"—Puck.

Laughter and Applause.

"Do you consider it art to employ a clique?"
"Well," replied the anxious looking theater manager, "it may not be art, but I don't know that it's any worse than a congressman's writing 'laughter' and 'applause' into his own speeches."

His Explanation of It.

"What are you laughing at?"
"Maud's letter. She writes that they had foggy weather all the way across."
"I don't see anything funny in that."
"No; but she adds that the captain must have neglected to take out clearing papers."

No Joke Here.

"I thought you had a trained nurse to wait on your wife."
"So I have."
"And now you're looking for more help."
"Yes. I find I have to have three or four maids to wait on the trained nurse."

IN CHICAGO.

Ella—I don't see how some of these clergymen live.
Stella—Well, I've done my share for them; I've been married seven times.

A Suggestion.

How should we woo sweet happiness
To win her latest smile?
Drive envy from our hearts, I guess,
And make this life worth while.

Force of Habit.

Judge—Prisoner, you are charged with breaking into several houses.
What have you to say?
Burglar—I used to be a bookkeeper, your honor, and I got into the habit of breaking in.

COLORED BOY

Drowned In The River Yesterday By Jumping Into Deep Water.

Grover Dawson, a colored boy about 16 years old, an adopted son of Mary Tandy on First street, was drowned in the river yesterday afternoon about two o'clock, at a point near the railroad bridge. The boy could not swim and plunged from the bluff into water six feet deep and drowned within ten feet of the bank. Two other boys were swimming in the water at the time and attempted to aid him, but in his struggles he almost pulled one of them under and they could not get him out. The body was recovered almost immediately as it was known where he went down.

Dr. Rice was summoned and held an inquest and returned a verdict of accidental drowning.

STOLE $40

A thief entered the home of Wm. Evans, the colored hack driver, near East Ninth Street, and stole his pocketbook from his pants, with its contents of about $40. He went in through an open window and escaped unnoticed.

PARTY'S POWER AT END

BREAKUP OF REPUBLICAN ORGAN-IZATION IS APPARENT.

Its Only Bond Fast Approaching Dissolution With the Personal Quarrel Between President Taft and Theodore Roosevelt.

The Republican party is going to pieces because the only bond that has held it together for years past has lost its power over the people. That bond is the protective tariff.

Republicanism's two great leaders are now openly at war. They accuse each other of many wrongs, but in every case the charge has to do with the tariff or its beneficiaries. Both wings of the party are in full flight from the organization's tariff and trust record and the harshest things that Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt can say of each other are those that allege undue subservience to the grasping bosses of business and politics.

Some such end as this is inevitable in the case of every political party that has no aim but plunder. In all of Republicanism's bookkeeping for 20 years there has been no entry of a moral idea. Its sole purpose has been the enrichment of a class at the expense of another class. Its sentiments are all sordid. Its battle cries are all of greed.

Mr. Taft confesses the hopelessness of further monopolistic tariffs by denouncing the present schedules and their authors and promising relief as soon as the tariff board shall have completed its investigations.

Mr. Roosevelt confesses the worthlessness of the trust-building tariff for campaign purposes hereafter by seeking a third term on other and very remote issues. There were a few precedents in the bloody shirt. There have been several precedents in the tariff, but Republicans everywhere agree that there will be no more.

A party actuated by high ideals could not possibly develop a situation such as that which has led to the violent personal quarrel between Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt. They have fallen apart because the various beneficiaries of favoring laws have separated into jealous and warring groups. Some of these gluttonous interests favor one man. Some of them favor the other. In the exposures now in progress we have proof of guilt on all sides and revelations of the truth that cannot fail to startle the country.

The break between Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt is more than a rupture between two men. It signifies that the two wings of the Republican party are turning state's evidence against each other. Neither side has any defense to offer for the party as such. Both admit every count in the indictment of that organization as presented by Democrats. There is no hope of saving the party, for it is conceded that it is not worth saving. The present Republican watchword is "Every man for himself!"—St. Louis Republic.

FUNNY

Moses' Choice.

On being asked which manner of death he thought was preferable, being killed in a railroad wreck or drowned, Moses, the colored servant, promptly replied:

"Railroad wreck."

We asked him why he preferred railroad wreck and he made the following rejoinder:

"If you is killed on de railroad, dar yo' is, but if you is drowned in de ribber, whar is yo'?"—Mack's National Monthly.

Not in the Dictionary.

A teacher was reading to her class and came across the word "unaware." She asked if any one knew its meaning.

One small girl timidly raised her hand and gave the following definition:

"'Unaware' is what you take off the last thing before you put your nightie on."—Harper's Monthly.

A Ready Giver.

"I approach you in a worthy cause, Mr. Titewad. We want to raise $100,000—a prominent philanthropist offers to contribute a quarter of it."

"Oh, well," said Mr. Titewad, hastily, "I don't mind giving another quarter. Can you change a half?"—House-keeper.

A Quick Luncher.

"Out to luncheon—back in five minutes," read the sign on the door.

"Are you sure he will be back that soon?" asked the anxious caller.

"Yes'm," said the wise office boy. "He ain't got the price of a ten-minute lunch in his clothes."

POOR FELLOW!

Gerald—I understand that, other things being equal, a large wheel revolves more rapidly than a small one, Geraldine—How your head must hum!

Love Song of the Office Boy.
Oh, Phyllis, dear, if I could be
On your typewriter but a key
I think that I should faint or such
With joy, beneath your gentle touch!

One In Need.

Father—Why did you spend that quarter I gave you?
Bobby—I helped a little boy who wanted some candy.
Father—Oh, that's all right. Who was the little boy?
Bobby—Me?

Money's Sex.

French Preacher—Now, Tommy, what is money in French?

"Argent."

"Good; and what gender is it?"

"Feminine; money talks."—Satire.

A Common Cause.

"Do you understand the cause of the girls' quarrel?"
"Why, I was told it was six feet tall with broad shoulders and a drooping mustache."

WHAT COL. ROOSEVELT DID

Record as President of the Men Who New Seek to Be Elected Again.

When a man has held office for seven and one-half years, and still wants more office, it is proper to ask what he has made of his term of power. What he thinks, talks, wishes or hopes does not count. He had a chance to do. What did he do?

Mr. Roosevelt was president for almost two full terms. What did he do that another term should be given to him in violation of the nation's tradition against third terms?

He protected his friends who own the Sugar trust from prosecution, while that trust was stealing millions of dollars from the government by means of loaded scales.

He ran up the expenses of administration to double what they had been a few years before.

He brought on a panic which caused hundreds of thousands of workingmen to be out of employment for months and spread ruin and bankruptcy all over the country.

He permitted the Steel trust, in direct violation of law, to buy up its only important competitor.

He tried to revive the alien and sedition laws to abolish a free press and free speech.

He allowed the infamous tariff robbery to continue, not only unchecked, but unchallenged through his entire term.

His most intimate friends and his most trusted advisers were standpatters and beneficiaries of the robber tariff.

He was the best president for Wall Street that Wall Street ever had.

And yet, in some mysterious manner, Mr. Roosevelt has persuaded the country to believe that he is just the reverse of what his record reveals.

"As Clear as Day."

Is it possible for Mr. Roosevelt to tell the truth about any matter in which he is personally interested?

Take as an example the statement he made in his Worcester speech about the third-term tradition. Mr. Roosevelt said:

"Therefore, it is as clear as day that it is and can only be a consecutive third term that violates the tradition. I had this in view when I said that the custom regards the substance and not the form."

Mr. Roosevelt knows that previous to the time he broke his own solemn pledge the third-term issue had arisen only once in American history. That was in the case of Grant, who retired from the White House March 4, 1877, and whose followers endeavored to nominate him for president again in 1880.

The Grant campaign was the campaign that definitely established the third-term tradition. It was not a consecutive third term, but the kind of a third term that Theodore Roosevelt is seeking.

These are all elementary facts known to the most casual student of American history, yet because they relate to his own candidacy Mr. Roosevelt is incapable of telling the truth about them.

Democratic Opportunity Here.

It must be clear to most people that so-called Republican progressives who at the drop of a battered old hat surrendered all their principles and hurried for autocracy, as the inhabitants of Rome many centuries ago applauded Julius Caesar, are not of the stuff of which modern reformers are made. They never have controlled their party and they are never likely to do so. By their colossal folly, however, they have taken the most effective course to rid the country of a corrupt and oppressive political organization which is the greatest stumbling block in the way of true progress.

We trust that Democrats from one end of the country to the other will not fail to note the fact that the very stars in their courses are fighting for them and that circumstances have designated them unerringly for a great and glorious work.

The hour for progress has struck and Democracy alone is prepared. If it would be an efficient instrument in the enforcement of the people's will it must profit by the blunders and crimes and weaknesses of the party that is now about to disintegrate.

View of Wall Street.

Wall street and many business men of New York now regard the election of next fall as already decided. It is the view that the Republican party is split wide open. For that reason these men are persuaded that the Democratic party will be triumphant, no matter who the candidate may be, and that the victory will be so sweeping that the Democratic majority in the lower house will be greater than in the present house; and that as soon as state elections for United States senators can take place, the Democratic party will be in a majority in the upper house—Holland, in the Wall Street Journal.

"The Outlook, which speaks from an inlook into the purposes and policies of the Claimant, insists that the tariff is not an issue between parties at the coming presidential election. The tariff does not interest the Claimant. It is a sore topic for his clients the trusts."

The reference in a recent speech of the colonel to "my attorney general" attracts some attention. But as the attorney general named was Charles J. Bonaparte no one seems disposed

Dread Of An Operation.

N. Manchester, Ind.—Mrs. Eva Bashore, of this place, says: "I suffered female misery of every description. Two doctors attended me, and advised an operation. I lost weight until I weighed only ninety pounds. I dreaded an operation, and, instead, began to take Cardui."

In a short time, I gained 25 pounds, and feel as well as I ever did. Cardui, I am sure, saved my life." Cardui is today used in thousands of homes, where it relieves pain and brings back strength and ambition.

It is a woman's medicine, for woman's ailments, and you are urged to try it for your troubles. Ask your druggist. He will tell you about Cardui.

BANK IN THE PHILIPPINES

Agricultural Institution Established There Has Made a Remarkably Good Showing.

During the period from October 1, 1908, to May 23, 1911, the Agricultural Bank of the Philippines made 168 loans, advancing in all 498,600 pesos ($249,300).

No person or corporation can borrow less than $25 gold, nor more than $12,500 from the bank. The rate of interest charged is 10 per cent. per annum, and the maximum period for which a loan may be made is ten years.

Of the 674 applications received, 311 were refused because title was defective or applicant had no title whatever (in all cases where the applicant's defective title could be perfected he was given instructions as to how to do so). 101 applicants were refused because of the amounts requested being out of proportion to the value of the security offered, 57 have been withdrawn by the applicants, 10 have been refused as the loans requested were for other than agricultural purposes, 13 have been acted on favorably, but are awaiting signature to and registration of mortgage, and 16 are in the hands of various provincial boards for appraisal of the value of the security offered.

About a year ago the bank communicated with the provincial officials throughout the islands with a view to obtaining information as to why requests for loans were not more numerous, and the replies received were, without exception, to the effect that the people possessed neither royal nor Torrens titles and that the requirements for securing good titles were so complicated and expensive that the people would not attempt to secure them. Recently, however, a system has been inaugurated by the government to aid the people in acquiring Torrens titles, but the system has not been in effect sufficiently long to show any appreciable results.

COURT OPINIONS IN SKELETON

Chief Justice White Invents Labor-Saving Device for Transmitting Sense of Decisions.

Skeleton opinions have been invented by Chief Justice White, to relieve the Supreme court of the United States of much labor. He has named them officially "memorandum" opinions.

This new sort of opinion was designed to meet the heavy demands upon the time and energies of the justices, due to the increased number of cases taken under advisement since Chief Justice White came to the head of the court. It will relieve the justices from making an exhaustive statement in regard to all the facts and law concerned in each case, and yet will give to litigants more reasons for the court's decision than would be contained in the time-honored "per curiam" opinions.

Skeleton or "memorandum" opinions were recently given for the first time and their nature was revealed when the written opinions were filed with the clerk of the court. These show that the justices take various views of what a skeleton opinion may be. Justice Lamar announced a "memorandum" opinion in which everything said was based on cited authority. Justice Lurton, on the other hand, prepared one in which no single authority was cited.

BIG DEMAND FOR 1911 COINS

Clamor for New Quarters and Halves Greater Than Uncle Sam Was Able to Supply.

There was an extraordinary demand in the east and south, characteristic of the Christmas holiday season, for quarters and half dollars of the 1911 issue.

Washington treasury officials were unable to determine whether the demand was produced by a desire of people to make small presents to their friends in new money or a wish of the banks to advertise to their patrons that they were distributing 1911 coins. There is always a strong public sentiment in favor of new money.

Because of this strong demand, which was probably 20 per cent larger than ever before, word was sent they need make no more applications for new quarters and halves coined at the Philadelphia mint, as that institution had more orders than it could care for.

There is piled up in the treasury office a total of $17,500,000 in these denominations of various dates, and the mint bureau does not want to increase that amount.

Natives Taught How to Farm. Natives of Santo Domingo, along the Haitian frontier, who for centuries have planted their crops by simply punching holes in the hard earth, placing the seed and trusting to luck that it would thrive, have, under the guidance of M. E. Beall, a customs inspector, and in co-operation with the United States agricultural department, began the cultivation of their farms in a civilized fashion.

Chewing Gum Now Under Ban. Gum chewing is the latest practice to meet with the disapproval of the navy department, which has decreed that gum shall no longer form part of the stocks of ships' stores. The decree follows the recommendation of Capt. William F. Fullam, former commander of the Mississippi, who brands the gum chewing habit as "decidedly objectionable for obvious reasons."

DIFFERENT POINTS OF VIEW.

"Good morning, Jones."
"Good morning, Brown. Any news today?"
"Well, yes. You know my brother who works at the bank? Well, he went to business the other day and found $1,000 on the counter. And what do you think he did? Stole the money and tripped off to Canada. And when the news reached my father it nearly broke the old man's heart."
"That's funny. You know my brother works at a bank, too, and when he went to business the other morning he found $1,000. And what do you think he did?"
"What—stole it?"
"No; took it straight to the manager's office; and when the news reached my father, do you know it broke the old man's heart."—London Tit-Bits.

Returned Empty.
"Why had that boy so long to wait, Jane?" asked the mistress of her servant, who had just taken in a siphon of soda water.
"Please, mum, he waited for the bottle," cheerily replied Jane.
"Bottle! What bottle?" queried her mistress.
"If you please, mum, he asked if he could have a returned empty, so I asked 'im to wait until I drewed it all into a jug, and then I give 'im 'is bottle back," was the reassuring reply.—Ideas.

"Oh! yes," replied the dear girl, "but he says he'll bring me back after the wedding journey. He has decided that we shall board with you."—Catholic Standard and Times.

His Duty.
"A lawyer's first duty," said the student, "is to see that justice is done, isn't it, professor?"
"H'm, yes," said the professor thoughtfully. "And it has been my experience that the lawyer who does her the oftenest always gets the largest fee."

Delicate Attention.
Mrs. Fitz-Bille—Of course, I know you do not care for me. Why, you even forget my birthday.

KITTY MEWS

Monday's Games.

AT CAIRO.

Hopkinsville took a slow game from Cairo, featured only with long hits, Lewis of Cairo getting a triple, and Webber and Enloe of Hopkinsville and Vatters of Cairo getting doubles. Score: R. H. E. Hopkinsville.....7 9 0 Cairo.....1 7 6 Batteries—Johnson and Dayton; Love and Taylor.

AT EVANSVILLE.

The game between Clarksville and Evansville was another bat fest, the visitors turning the tables and winning out. Score: R. H. E. Evansville.....6 11 3 Clarksville.....8 10 1 Batteries—Rose, Hoyt and Faulkenberry; Coleman and Basham.

AT HENDERSON.

Errors at critical times were responsible for Paducah losing to Henderson. This is the fifth straight game Henderson has taken from Paducah. Score: R. H. E. Henderson.....4 6 2 Paducah.....3 8 4 Batteries—Bailey and Peck; Randall and Eggleston.

Tuesday's Games.

At Cairo, in an eight-inning game Cairo showed a complete reversal of form and shut out Hopkinsville. An error, a pass and bunched hits gave Cairo four runs in the third. Manager Lewis of Hopkinsville made his first appearance as a pitcher. Score: R. H. E. Hopkinsville.....0 6 1 Cairo.....5 6 0 Batteries—Lewis and Dayton; Binkley and Taylor.

AT HENDERSON.

The three hits which Paducah got were sandwiched in with errors by Henderson, a combination which netted them three runs and the game. Score: R. H. E. Henderson.....1 8 4 Paducah.....3 3 3 Batteries—Ostendorf and Peck, Nichols and Osborn.

AT EVANSVILLE.

Evansville and Clarksville continued their heavy hitting, the visitors winning, 7 to 4. In the three games played so far in this series a total of sixty-nine hits have been made. Score: R. H. E. Evansville.....4 13 2 Clarksville.....7 13 1 Batteries—Gussage and Faulkenberry and Barton; Hicks and Basham.

PERCY HALY

Harry Sommers Calls Him a Master Politician.

"Gen. Percy Haly is the master politician of Kentucky, and we doubt if his equal can be found anywhere in the United States. He is loved and admired by his friends and abused and vilified by his enemies. Those who have been associated most closely with him swear by him, and those who have been against him swear at him. In spite of the fact that he has been in the limelight for twelve years, and perhaps has been the most abused man in politics, except John Whallen, his enemies have never been able to show anything against his integrity or his character. They have talked about him as if he was the vilest of the vile in the way of politicians, and yet not a single specific charge has been laid at his door with any proof to sustain it.

"We take it that a man who has done so much and fought so hard is cleaner in his private life and in his public acts than the average man or his enemies would have been able to find something on him which would have crippled him or destroyed his influence. His friends say that he is a poor man who has made nothing out of politics but a reputation for helping his friends and his party.

SECRET OF HIS SUCCESS.

"Denied many of the things in the way of accomplishments which most politicians have, he has surmounted all difficulties and is today recognized as the best politician in Kentucky. The secret of his wonderful success is his splendid common sense and the fact that he has devoted his time almost exclusively to politics. He knows every man of importance in politics in Kentucky, and he knows just how much he can do, where his strength lies, who has influence with him.

"He uses this knowledge in every campaign, pulls every string at his command and beats the other side by the superiority of his organization. It was Percy Haly's fine organization which put the County Unit in the Democratic platform. Harry Schorberth would have defeated Claude Terrill for Speaker but for Percy Haly. The County Unit would have been defeated in the State Senate but for Percy Haly. Ollie James would have beaten McCreary for chairman of the state convention but for Percy Haly.

"In other words, so skillfully did he work and so complete was his organization that had he been on the other side in each one of these fights the other side would have won. He is practical and not sentimental in politics. He makes politics a business and not a sideline. He is a wonder, measured by his success. We have been against him and have been with him in political campaigns and we have never seen his like."—Elizabethtown News.

Mysterious Murder.

Near Adairville the body of Houston Burchett, a simple-minded laborer, was found in an advanced stage of decomposition.

A preliminary investigation by the coroner developed that his throat had been cut; that he had left the home of his employer on Sunday morning with about $60 and was seen in company with several persons near Dotts, Ky. His pockets were cut out, evidencing that he was murdered for his money. The coroner will continue his investigation and the murderers will likely be apprehended.

Postoffice Is Discontinued.

Barnes postoffice, eight miles Northeast of this city, has been discontinued, and the patrons of same are now being served by carrier on Rural route No. 6 out of Hopkinsville.

COME BACK TO THE TARIFF

All Artificial Prices of Which the People Complain Are Found to Center There.

One fact, one that every man of practical sense can grasp, was very clearly set forth in the speech of a prominent Democratic leader at the Reform club:

"No doubt there are many reasons why modern business has been organized on lines of wide combination. No doubt, too, there are many causes, natural as well as artificial, which lie underneath the rise in prices, but, however economists may argue this matter, or whatever general laws and tendencies they may disclose, we have only to read the testimony taken at trials instituted by the government or investigations instituted by congress; we have only to dig a little way into the tariff schedules themselves and get experts to explain to us the real significance of here a phrase and there a fraction, to see the whole business laid bald and bare before us by which systematic advantage has been taken of the tariff to raise prices without awaiting the assistance of economic laws, and without regarding either justice or the rights of the public. The tariff is the mother of artificial prices because it is the foster-mother of monopoly, and only when these roots of the whole evil thing are touched shall we begin to get control of the forces which have all but mastered us."

To paraphrase the word of the illustrious French statesman, Leon Gambetta: "The tariff, that is the enemy!" And it is an enemy that every man with a vote can get at.—New York Times.

CAN SHOW A CLEAN RECORD

Democratic Representatives Have Done Their Duty to Their Constituents and Party.

The one issue on which a Democratic house was elected in 1910 was the high cost of living and the downward revision of the tariff. Chairman Underwood of the committee on ways and means is fully justified in claiming credit for his party for having fulfilled its pledges so far as lay in its power.

The tariff bills passed during the extra session of congress last year came to naught through the vetoes of Mr. Taft. During the present session the house has passed the wool bill, the sugar bill, the metals bill and the chemical bill, and not of them has yet been favorably acted upon in the senate or even brought to a vote. The failure of tariff revision since the 1910 elections does not rest with the Democratic house. The responsibility for failure belongs to the senate and the president, both Republican.

Never at any time has the Democratic party been more united on the tariff issue than it is today. It has been true to its promises and to the needs and demands of the country. No other issue of the day is of greater interest and importance to the people than lower taxes on the necessities of life at a period when prices are excessive and artificially stimulated by the system of high protection. The tariff is still in politics, in spite of the optimistic plans of Mr. Taft and because of his veto policy, and in the coming election, on their record in the house, the Democrats have all the advantage of position.

Blame Rest on Roosevelt.

The chickens do certainly come home to roost, in national as well as in individual affairs. But for Mr. Roosevelt's spoliation of Panama, but for the shock that he gave to Spanish American confidence in our integrity, there would be no such fanatical jealousy and suspicion on the part of Mexico as we see today and there would be no doubt of our ultimate motives, whatever we might think it necessary to do. A European warship might today land troops in Mexico with less danger of a conflagration than was caused by the dozen American soldiers who carelessly strolled across the bridge at El Paso. American interests of incalculable magnitude are now at stake in Mexico and the burden of our responsibility for those interests has been rendered doubly grievous by the action of Mr. Roosevelt, who first committed an act of piracy in the name of the American people and then boasted of it before the world.

Roosevelt Didn't Permit Suit.

Former Attorney-General Bonaparte now explains that he "had forgotten the existence" of the letter from President Roosevelt directing him "not to file the suit (against the Harvester trust) until I hear from you." And he adds: "I did after receiving it just exactly what I would have done if I hadn't received it—that is to say, I completed the departmental inquiry and then reported to the president that I thought the suit should be brought." But the suit against the Harvester trust was not filed. Mr. Roosevelt did not permit it.

Made Friends of Mammon. The Roosevelt policy was to distinguish between "good trusts" and "bad trusts" and to make sure of the political and financial support for his administration of the good trusts, including especially those "far-reaching Morgan interests generally."

Need anybody be surprised that those interests, acting through George W. Perkins, are now seeking to make Theodore Roosevelt president of the United States once more? It could not well be otherwise.

EDWARD RENO, MASTER OF MAGIC.

EDWARD RENO, who is to appear here Chautauqua week, was engaged in traveling from one hamlet or camp to another during the last uprising of the Ute Indians. His outfit was carried on the back of a pack burro which was in charge of an Indian guide. Money was plentiful, and the people bestowed liberally their gold and silver in return for the entertainment. During the journey from Pleasant Valley Junction to American Forks, Reno came suddenly upon a war council of Utes. Both were taken by surprise. Knowing nothing else to do, Reno betthought himself of his magic. So without hesitation he commenced making rocks disappear and finding them in unexpected places. He swallowed knives and found them in the possession of some of the braves. He tossed eggs in the air, where they vanished, and found them in one of the brave's blankets. He did the pistol shooting trick, catching the bullet in his teeth, finishing by swallowing the pistol and finding it in the chief's moccasins. The chief was so impressed by the impromptu performance that Reno was appointed to the position of medicine man and was given a safe escort to the station.

McMILLIN

Announces For Governor of Tennessee on Democratic Side.

Former Governor Benton McMillin, Sunday night announced as a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor of Tennessee. Mr. McMillin states that if elected, he expects to re-inaugurate economy in public expenses and to resume payment on the state debt. He says that he will strive for the restoration of peace and good will to a distracted state and for the maintenance of order and the enforcement of the law.

Your watch needs cleaning. Let us examine it for you. Forbes Mfg. Co. Incorporated.

SITUATION IN CUBA

Grows So Serious That Two Warships Have Gone To Havana.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The navy department, acting under instructions from the state department Monday night ordered Admiral Osterhaus to proceed forthwith from Key West to Havana with one dispatch ship and one other ship. These orders were issued by the state department after the receipt of a dispatch from Minister Beaupre reporting that conditions in Havana and suburbs of the city had assumed the character of a race war.

Miss Nannie Walker left yesterday for a two weeks' visit to relatives in Lynchburg, Va.

CAPITAL CITY CHIEF BUREAU

Politicians Have Headquarters in Other Cities—They Are Quite Different.

There are headquarters of party candidates in New York and in Chicago, and ordinarily these are known as "the headquarters," but the chief places of direction and organization today are in the city of Washington. The capital has a large floating population, but if the visiting politicians, men coming to get advice and orders and to give suggestions in return therefor, were to be cut from the "booster census" some of the Washington hotels would close their doors—and possibly their bars.

Hotel lobbies in Washington during a prenomination campaign present the same motion pictures, with talking attachments, which will be seen later in the corridors of the hotels of the convention cities. There is a difference, however, a marked difference, and one which adds to the enlivening interest of the daily performance. Here are candidates. In the convention cities candidates will not be seen save perhaps in the persons of one or two of the minor ones, who have only the tenth chance of preferment and who may appear in the midst of their party brethren without breach of decorum or sacrifice of modesty.

Here presidential candidates are obliged to undergo some of the penalties of presidents. Their pictures have appeared in every paper in the land, and Washington visitors not brought here by the impulse of politics all know the candidates and all feel the native American desire to shake hands. The only difference between the president's receptions at the White House and the presidential candidates' receptions in the hotels is that in the one case the line passes by greatness and in the other case greatness passes by the line.

SENATOR'S JOYRIDE IN LIFT

New York Lawmaker Causes Some Embarrassment to Occupants of a Capitol Elevator.

Senator Root is a trifle preoccupied at times and his absentmindedness, combined with a rule for the senate elevators, caused a little embarrassment to several persons in a senate elevator a few days ago.

There is a rule in the senate wing of the Capitol that when a senator enters an elevator he shall be taken to his destination immediately, regardless of what other passengers might be in the car.

Senator Root got on the elevator at the main floor. The elevator had been going down until he entered. The operator immediately sent it up to the senate floor and stopped. Mr. Root started out and then returned. The operator continued to the gallery floor. Again the senator started out, but looked around and stepped back into the car. The elevator conductor dropped the elevator to the basement. The senator did not want that floor. The terrace floor was tried and still the senator did not leave the car.

Finally the elevator operator in desperation stopped the car at the main floor, where he had found Mr. Root at the beginning.

"Oh, this is the floor I wanted," said the New York senator. "I was right where I wanted to be at the start, wasn't I?" he said to the operator.

Refused to Be "Fired."

John Brown is dead. John Brown happens to be the name of a colored man who has been employed as a laborer in the capitol since 1885. He was a veteran of the war of the rebellion, and had served so long that when a number of years ago they undertook to fire him he just naturally refused to be fired. The sergeant-at-arms landed on him one morning when he was packing in wood for the fireplaces in the offices around the senate, and told him that he had been discharged, and that he need not come again to the capitol. John Brown, who was a giant, six feet three inches high, gently shoved him aside and said: "Shucks, man, you all get out of my way, so as I can carry in dis here wood. I ain't got no time to be fooling around here being discharged. I got to work." And so he was not discharged, but stayed right there, and was in the harness until the day of his death.

He's Still Running.

A gentleman in a Manchester restaurant the other day, thought he would have a joke with the waiter, and asked him if he had ever seen a sausage roll.

"Say," said the waiter, "I have not only seen a sausage roll, but I have seen a biscuit box, a table spoon, a chimney sweep, a chain link, a nose gay, a camera slide, a garden fence, a sword fish, a wall flower." But when he got to a "fire escape" the gentleman thought it was high time for him to escape, too.

As he went the waiter went with him, saying: "A trap turn, a cake walk, a mountain climb, a sky lark, a honey comb, a half crown." But by this time the gentleman joker was half-way down the street in a dazed condition.—London Ideas.

Highly Effective.

"You said just now you were very hungry, yet you ordered nothing more than pie and coffee. What happened to take your appetite away?" "I felt in my pocket."

CONGRESSMAN IS KILLED

Hon. Robt. Wickliffe, a Native of Kentucky, Loses Life.

Washington, D. C. June 12.—Representative Robert Wickliffe, of Louisiana, was killed by a train at the northern end of the Potomac river bridge, Monday night.

His body was found this morning. He was returning from a fishing trip.

Mr. Wickliffe was a native of Nelson county, Kentucky, and married Miss Lydia Cooke, of Louisville. He was a graduate of Centre college at Danville.

A Canine Parade.

Washington, D. C., June 12.—Champ Clark's presidential headquarters announced last night that a campaign is on to marshal "hound dawgs" from every state in Baltimore. A trainer and fancier in Tulsa county, Oklahoma, is arranging for a dog parade in Baltimore during the Democratic national convention. He expects to have 1,000 dogs in line. His idea is to have every state represented by a delegation of dogs.

Nashville's Franchise.

Nashville, Tenn., June 12. Dan E. McGugin, owner of the Nashville baseball franchise, announced that he would turn the franchise back to President W. M. Kavanaugh, of the league, unless reliable parties here, preferably the Commercial Club, took it over permanently. Should he give up the franchise, it is thought here that it would go to Little Rock.

Two Aviators Killed.

Mourmelon, France, June 10.—Kimmerlin, one of the best known aviators, and an engineer, Tonnell, who was flying with him as a passenger, were instantly killed Sunday by a fall of 300 feet Kimmerling was trying out a new monoplane. The machine was seen to oscillate violently and then suddenly it dropped straight to earth.

Blackburn Escapes.

Owensboro, Ky., June 10.—The officers of Owensboro and Indiana, according to Chief of Police Reynolds are completely baffled and are without clues to the whereabouts of George Blackburn, who killed Policeman Dawson, and they have about abandoned the active hunt altogether.

Death Came To 26.

Cherbourg, June 10.—During the practice maneuvers of the French fleet Saturday the battle-ship Saint Louis collided with the submarine Vendemiaire. The smaller craft was cut in two and carried to their death the entire crew of twenty-six men.

Joe Ziegenhagen Dead.

J. J. Ziegenhagen, for many years a traveling salesman out of Evansville died last week at Denver, Colo. He was 66 years old. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Kate Resing Ziegenhagen, says the Evansville Courier. He went to Denver fifteen years ago for relief from asthma.

Charged With Manslaughter.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN'S ESTIMATE OF THE CHAUTAUQUA MOVEMENT.

(Written by William Jennings Bryan.)

THE Chautauqua affords one of the best opportunities now presented to the public speaker for the discussion of questions of interest to the people. The audience is a select one and always composed of the thoughtful element of the community, and as they pay admission they stay to hear. I believe that a considerable part of the progress that is now being made along the line of moral and political reforms is traceable to the influence of the Chautauqua. An increasing number of men of prominence are availing themselves of the Chautauqua platform, and I believe that the number will continue to grow.

Haly And Mayo

Washington, June 12.—Gen. Percy Haly and J. C. C. Mayo occupied the center of the Kentucky political stage here Monday, although both claimed they are here on a strictly business mission.

"The Democrats are going to nominate for President the man who can win," said Gen. Haly. "The nominations will be made at Baltimore and the platform will be framed there in the light of what the Republicans may do at Chicago. The Democrats will take advantage of the Republican mistakes and will nominate a winner. I am not prepared to guess at this time who the Democratic nominee will be."

Gen. Haly still insists that to a ledged interview with him and Mayo given out from Harmon headquarters, classifying them as Harmon supporters, was "a pure frame-up."

Feeling is High.

Eluding all efforts of both the police and detective departments, the negroes who in an automobile ran down and killed Mrs. Horace Childress Friday night in front of her home in Nashville, are still at large and although Governor Hooper has offered $300 reward for their capture and conviction, no trace of them has been discovered.

Feeling against the blacks, who occupied the car, is still running high throughout the city.

TINKLING PERSIFLAGE.

This is just a bit of dialogue after the fashion of the modern English comedy of the John Drew class:
She—Can you look me in the face and repeat that story?
He—Why, it isn't as bad as all that.
She—The story?
He—Your face.
"For shame. I'm sure you make it up."
"No, dear, you made it up."
"Silly! And now it will be read all over."
"Only on the cheeks, dear."
"Aren't you horrid! You know I never make up."
"Well, then, let's kiss and make up now."
Curtain.

No Place for Him.

"William, come. I refuse to sit through another act of this show with you."
"But, my dear, it may not be—"
"No, no. It isn't fit for decent people to see. I refuse to stay here with you any longer."
"Very well, if that's the way you feel about it. Only I would like to know how the plot is finally unfolded."
"I'll get a matinee ticket and tell you."

A MATTER OF TASTE.

Hoax—My grandfather lived to be nearly ninety and never used glasses.
Joax—Well, lots of people prefer to drink from the bottle.

Serious Thought in Last Line.
The wedding bells ring gaily out,
Of rice a perfect torrent pours;
Kind friends their words of parting about,
Meanwhile the cost of living soars.

They Don't Speak Now.
Gladys (just twenty-two)—This is my birthday, Mabelle. Guess how old I am?
Mabelle—Oh, I'll guess twenty-six.
Gladys—Not very good. Four years out of the way.
Mabelle—Well, dearie, I wanted to be sure and be on the safe side.—Judge.

Egging Him On.
The scene is laid in Tripoli.
"Ah, a battle!"
"See them charge."
"Who is that dauntless hero who is cheering on the combatants?"
"I think he works for a moving picture concern," explained the guide. Then the tourists started for the Pyramids.

He Tells the Truth.
"Mr. Wombat, I wish to marry your daughter."
"Well, young man, can you support my daughter in good style?"
"I'll do my best, sir. I must admit, however, that we shall have to buy the furniture upon the installment plan."

Does Seem Strange.
"We Americans have our oddities."
"How now, Horatius?"
"A man will boast in one breath that all Americans are free and equal, and in the next that he associates only with our best people."

WOMAN'S IDEA.

Bonham—I think women ought to be chloroformed at sixty, as well as men.
Mrs. Bonham—I think so, too. Any woman who will admit being sixty ought to be chloroformed.

The Arrival.
Who is that sad and sorry wight
Descending from a train?
Ode-bobs! can I believe my sight?
The umpire's back again!

His Reasons.
"That old miser talks very little."
"Possibly he's afraid of spending his breath."

Wife a Necessity.

Judge Goodnow, of the Chicago Court of Domestic Relations, ruled in a divorce case that a wife is a necessity and not a luxury, especially to a man over 30 years of age, saying:

"I think a good woman is a necessity to a good man and as the years pass the necessity is increased. The wifeless men between thirty and fifty years are in more trouble and cause more trouble to their friends than married men. Woman is an anchor and the home is a refuge. The hotel, club, restaurant and the saloon, which are the headquarters for the majority of wifeless men, are not elevating."

He advised the dissatisfied couple to go home and try to live together.

WARNING!

USE OF A COMMON DRINKING CUP IS PROHIBITED.

An Act Prohibiting the Use of Public Drinking Cups.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

The use of the common drinking cup on railroad trains, and in railroad stations, public hotels, boarding houses, restaurants, or steamboats, in stores or other publicly frequented places in Kentucky, is hereby prohibited. No person or corporation in charge of the aforesaid places, and no person or corporation shall permit on said railroad train, in railroad stations, public hotels, boarding houses, restaurants, steamboats, stores, or any publicly frequented place in Kentucky, the use of the drinking cup in common. There must also be posted in a conspicuous place, by the individual or corporation, by the drinking water contained in any of the places mentioned in foregoing paragraph, a warning cardboard, with the above printed thereon in large letters, so they can be easily read. Any person or corporation violating the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction, be fined in any sum not less than one dollar, and not more than ten dollars, and each day's violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be considered a separate offense, punishable by fine in the amount named above.

All laws inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

Approved by Governor, March 13, 1912.
Effective June 13, 1912.

MISS STARLING'S LETTER

Chieng Mai, Laos, Nov. 1, 1911.—This is the first day of November, and I suppose you are sitting by a good fire. The weather here is delightful, and I don't think we will have much more hot weather. I feel 50 per cent stronger, since it has turned a little cooler; though even now, in the middle of the day, it is very warm. But we have cool nights, and I have to cover up before morning, and put on my coat for a few hours in the morning.

Saturday, I spent seven hours at the typewriter, and got the station report completed, with the exception of a few things that will have to be added after station meeting this afternoon. Dr. Mason says it is the first time since he has been out here (five years) that anyone has gotten up the report on time. But I didn't care to take too many bites at it, so, after much urging, I managed to get the reports from the workers in our station, and fixed it up. Some of these men sat up and rubbed their eyes, when I began to stir them up. I suppose it's out here like it seems to be among preachers the world over—they are too much absorbed in things spiritual to take time for matters of business. It seems that our stations all over the world are more or less remiss in sending their reports to the Board, so the Board issued a letter this fall, saying that any case in appropriations that would be made this year would be divided among the stations that had their reports in by the first of the year. That letter had been sent around to every member of the station, and yet, when I reminded them of it, no one ever seemed to have heard of it before. However, the letter was in the letter-book, to show for itself. We had one station meeting yesterday, to listen to the reading of the report, which is already to go in, with the exception of the needs of the station, which we are to discuss this afternoon. So I shall have to spend to-night finishing that up; consequently, I am writing to you this afternoon.

Mr. Lyle and his bride arrived Sunday. She had fever nearly all the way up the river. I imagine one would get malaria much more quickly coming up river, than overland. The Kerrs were with the Lyles, coming through the rapids, but the latter pushed ahead after that, and got here a day sooner. I haven't seen either of them, yet.

Last week, I got the prettiest hat from England. I don't know when I ever had one I like as well. Most of the women out here wear dressy straw hats, but it is not considered safe in the Orient, and the men all make fun of them for doing it; so I made up my mind that I would put my vanity in my pocket, so far as hats were concerned, and not wear anything but a cork hat. An ordinary hat is not considered enough protection from the tropical sun, and one may have sunstroke. So since I have been out here, I have worn plain cork hats, covered with drill, like the men's. I wasn't able to get a nice one, coming out, and there is no foreign market here. So I thought I would try ordering one from England, and it came by parcel-post last week. The shape is plain flat, and it is covered with pearl-grey broadcloth, with a twisted sash of silk of the same color. It is lined with a pretty shade of green silk, and is very becoming. It was not expensive either, as hats go, and I feel that it is nice enough to wear anywhere in company with dress hats. It really hasn't been such a temptation to go without a dress hat here, as by the time they arrive from America, they are all floppy and banged up. I shouldn't like to be caught wearing some of the hats I have seen out here.

The Bangkok papers are full of the revolution in China; I suppose it will be very serious. I had to laugh over one piece of news in the Bangkok paper: One of the royal elephants has taken a great dislike to the trolley cars, and charges them, every time he sees one. He is taken to the river every morning for his bath, and has recently put one out of commission, and seriously injured another. The motor-men have caught on, and now whenever they see the elephant, they run the car the other way; which upsets the time-table somewhat, but saves the car. This elephant has also taken a great fancy to the rice-cakes in the little shops along the way, and usually takes all in sight, and then wants some more. Isn't this a mingling of savagery and civilization? Such as you will find nowhere save in some of our Oriental cities.

I must stop now, and get my report finished up ready to send off tomorrow. LUCY STARLING.

PEMBROKE R. R. 3.

Buford Johnson, Correspondent

Mrs. M. E. Morton and daughter, Miss Bettie, spent a day or two last week with Mrs. Laura Hall at Allensville.

We suppose the readers of this paper think that we have left this part of the country as our letter has not been in the Kentuckian for three weeks. We have been real busy and could not get up the news.

Miss Pauline Fulcher returned about two weeks ago from Bowling Green where she has been in school there.

Miss Ida Mae Wade is spending this week with her grandmother, Mrs. Jane Wilkins near Trenton.

Buford Johnson attended the closing exercises of the Elkton graded school at Elkton last Thursday night.

Mr. Ed Wade now has a saw mill in his body of timber here cutting lumber.

Mr. E. P. Bell and family, of Bell's Chapel, Mr. and Mrs. St. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Adams, of near Trenton and Mrs. Harriet Bell, of Elkton spent Sunday at Mr. Jas. F. Bell's.

Mr. William Lowry, of Missouri, spent several days last week with his niece, Mr. M. E. Morton.

The farmers have all about finished setting tobacco.

Mr. Ed Wade and wife and three children spent Sunday with Mrs. Jane Wilkins near Trenton.

Messrs. Leigh Morton and Charles Shurn attended preaching at Fairview Sunday.

Miss Alma Burns, of Fairview, spent a day or two last week at Mr. R. E. Luchs.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hall spent Friday in Hopkinsville.

Wheat cutting will begin some time next week. It is latter this year than usual.

Given Final Hearing

Frankfort, Ky., June 12.—The State Board of Valuation and Assessment has begun the final hearing of railroad corporations, in protest against the enormous increases placed upon their franchises for taxation this year. The hearings will continue through Tuesday, at which time the tentative assessments of the board will be reviewed and final action taken.

It is not thought about the capital that the State Board will make any substantial reductions in assessments and that the complaining railroads will unite in a suit to test the authority of the State Board, and the justice of the assessment placed upon them by that body.

Board of Madisonville.

Madisonville, Ky., June 11.—The board of public works, recently created by the council, is composed of J. F. Dempsey, W. J. Dulin and George Finley. They took oath of office today and have entered upon their official duties. The preliminary work for the construction of a $75,000 waterworks system will be attended to at once. Negotiations for a civil engineer to select the site for a lake are under headway.

REHEARING IS DENIED IN TELEPHONE CASES

Motions Are Overruled By The Supreme Court Before Adjournment.

Washington, June 12—Motions for rehearing in the franchise case of the city of Louisville vs. the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Company, filed last week by City Attorney Blakey, and in the rate case of the city of Louisville vs. the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Company, filed by W. L. Granberry, chief counsel for the telephone company, both were denied by the Supreme Court of the United States this afternoon shortly before the high tribunal took its summer recess. Mr. Granberry's motion was, in fact, an application for leave to file a motion for a rehearing in the rate case, which was decided last Friday when the Louisville rate ordinance was upheld. The efforts of the city in the first case and the telephone company in the second to obtain a rehearing were to no avail.

She should consider only her work, said Miss Allen and disregard brusque directions from physicians and tender remarks from patients.

CUMBERLAND MUST REFUND

Court Holds Louisville Ordinance Regulating Rates Not Confiscatory.

The patrons of the Cumberland Telephone Company in Louisville are looking forward to the refund of appreciable sums they have paid the telephone company since February, 1909, when the ordinance regulating telephone rates in Louisville was signed by Mayor Grinstead.

This ordinance was opposed by the Cumberland as confiscatory and the company sought, by injunction, to prevent it being enforced. The Supreme Court decided Friday that the rates are not confiscatory.

The ordinance makes the following reductions: Business lines, from $7.50 a month to $5.50; party business lines from $5.50 a month to $4 a month; residence lines, from $3.50 a month to $3; party residence lines from $2.50 a month to $2. Pending the decision of the Supreme Court the higher rates have been charged. The company will have to refund the excess, which is believed to amount to $150,000. The reduction in rates will amount to $50,000 a year or more.

The Cumberland Company, however, has some consolation in the fact that the Supreme Court, in a decision two weeks ago, declared that it had a perpetual franchise in the City of Louisville conferred by the Legislature and approved by the Council, and that this cannot now be revoked by a council.
